

Is It Ok To Be Angry With God?

Job 10-12

- (1) In chapter 10 Job expresses his _____ that he feels God is treating him unfairly.
- (2) In chapter 11 Zophar arrogantly and _____ blasts Job for even thinking that God is treating him unfairly.
- (3) In chapter 12 Job continues to express his agony that there is nothing he can do to convince God to change His mind and that he feels God is not treating him fairly. However, in all this Job _____ event hints at the idea of refusing to obey and worship God!

Conclusion: We cannot understand the ways of God and therefore if you live your life surrendered to Christ it is unavoidable that there will be times in your life where you are angry at God because of the trials and/or pain you are unable to _____.

Challenge: Are you vocalizing to God how you _____ about pain and suffering while remaining submitted to Him as God or are you arrogantly demanding that God must explain Himself to you and operate on your terms for you to worship and submit to Him?
